ABOUT BIRMINGHAM

Downtown Birmingham is in the midst of a veritable cultural renaissance, with an expanded market for lofts and condos, and an increase in retail and eateries. Speaking of the food scene in Birmingham, media from The New York Times to The Washington Post has raved about it. The amount of acclaimed restaurants in Birmingham is impressive enough to please any foodie.

Between paddle boating at Oak Mountain, zip lining at Red Mountain and tube floating down the Cahaba River, there's really no excuse to stay inside on a beautiful day. The best part? You don't have to leave the Birmingham city limits to experience the great outdoors. If you're looking for something a little less strenuous, people are always at Railroad Park, a 19-acre green space with ponds, a small skate park and a canopied plaza that's smack dab in the middle of downtown.
